THE CLASSICAL ASSOCIATION OF THE PACIFIC STATES
 Northern Section

The Classical Association of the Pacific States, Northern Section, held its thirty-second annual meeting at the University of Washington, Seattle in the Walker-Ames Room, Parrington Hall, on Tuesday, December 29, 1942.

Dr. William M. Read gave the opening address, welcoming and introducing the members who came from distances and presenting the first speaker, Dr. Winifred Weter of Seattle Pacific College, who spoke on Greek Birds, including the ancient references to them as well as modern scientific findings. Her treatment of robins, tits, storks, hoopoes, nightingales and swallows was detailed.

Dr. Donald Prakken then read a paper on "Some Considerations of 'Generation' in Early Greek Literature," asking, "How long is a generation?" answering the question by defining the use several ancient authors made of the word γεγενῆσθαι, and discussing the importance of the γεγενῆσθαι to historical calculations. Prof. Todd added a comment on the generations of divinities.

The Rev. J. P. Whelly, C.S.C., of the University of Portland read a paper entitled "Continuing Present in Virgil." This title was happily misleading and the contents pleasantly diverting. He emphasized the idea of unity in historical periods, unity produced by the identicalness of all races and all periods of man with each other. Virgil is still beloved because he wrote of a complete, absolute and ageless humanity. This is to be seen especially in "fatum" and "lachrimae". Father Whelly recommended this fine thought as a pattern to the present world.

The meeting was adjourned to the Malloy Manor for luncheon from 12:00 to 2:00. Conversation was informal and in table groups.

The afternoon session, reassembled in the Walker-Ames Room, was opened by Professor O. J. Todd of the University of British Columbia. He spoke on "The Nature of Elision in Latin Verse," reviewing the treatment of contiguous vowels within a word, then between two words. He illustrated the fact that there is more elision in Latin speech than in ours because English words are more often ended with close vowels or with open vowels which are naturally stopped in actual usage. His well-based argument was that elision in the oral recitation of poetry could not have meant the complete loss of the first vowel sound because too often the meaning could be completely lost. A long discussion followed on pronunciations and consequent misunderstandings of meaning.

The next paper was written by Miss Margaret Smuts of Franklin High School, Portland, Oregon, on the "Triumph of our Modern Methods in Latin over Those of Yesteryear." Her treatise was a good-natured rebuff of modern texts, methods, and classroom procedures and a discussion of the combination of personality and method as the pivot-point in improvement. Miss Smuts, unfortunately, could not attend, so her paper was read by the secretary pro tem. Discussion centered around instances of the "triumph" (?) of modern methods.

The final paper was read by our president, Dr. William Read, entitled "The Training of High School Latin Teachers." In it he presented the results of his surveys (1932 and 1942) of the various degrees of preparation which Latin teachers in the State of Washington have had. The forty per cent. or more of high school teachers lacking a proper preparation (i.e. less than four years of high school Latin) can be improved by intensive work in prose composition. Dr. Read then outlined the new curriculum revision under way at the University of Washington designed to remedy this situation. Its feasibility was discussed at length.

A short business meeting followed. The minutes of the Thirty-first Annual Meeting and the Secretary-Treasurer's report for 1942 were read and approved.

The results of the election of officers follow:

President Rev. J. P. Whelly, C. S. C., University of Portland, who received the gavel and conducted the remainder of the meeting.

Vice-Presidents Professor O. J. Todd, University of British Columbia,
Vancouver, B. C.

Miss Helen Dean, Lewis and Clark High School, Spokane

Dr. Donald Prakken, Lakeside School for Boys, Seattle.

(The suggestion was made through Professor Todd that we have more than one vice-president, so that, in the event of greater difficulty of transportation next year, a number of smaller meetings might be organized. This motion was carried unanimously.)

Secretary-Treasurer Miss Catherine Calouri, Portland Oregon.

The motion was made and carried unanimously that we send a statement of thanks to Miss Calouri for her long and faithful service to the organization; also that thanks be given to Dr. Read for the time and effort he spend in managing this excellent meeting.

The meeting was adjourned at 5:00.

Respectfully submitted,

Ellen Kohler
Secretary pro tem.

BUSINESS MEETING—ELECTION OF OFFICERS

1943-1944

Because of the difficulty of transportation it was decided to omit the annual Christmas meeting of the Northern Section of the Classical Association of Pacific States in 1943. In its place a number of smaller regional meetings will be held in the spring of 1944.

The same officers will carry on for 1944-1945 with one exception Dr. Donald Proakken moved to the Univ. of Indiana. In his place Dr. Winifred Water, ^(Seattle Pacific College) was appointed as Vice-President.

Catherine Caloun
