General Notes

Readers are reminded that the call for papers specified a limit of 15 minutes. No one asked for more time, and, therefore, the program is constructed on the assumption that everyone will adhere to that time limit. There should be some time for discussion at the end of each session, but, if presidors permit sessions to go on too long, some speakers, presidors, and listeners may have serious conflicts with their travel arrangements. Your kind cooperation will be appreciated.

Accommodation. We have a block of rooms in the Empress. Please notify Gordon Shrimpton, Department of Classics, University of Victoria, P.O. Box 1700, Victoria, B.C. V8W 2Y2 before March 14, if you plan to attend, specifying your room requirements. Prices are $85 Cdn. (single), $95 Cdn. (double), children free.

Transportation. If you come in by airport or Swartz Bay Ferry bus, tell the driver you want the Empress. The float plane, catamaran, and Coho all dock in the Inner Harbour across from the Empress. If you bring a car, the Empress has covered spaces for a fee.

Registration Fee: A charge of $12 (U.S.) or $15 (Cdn) covers the reception on Friday, the lunch at the hotel on Saturday and the coffee services on Saturday. Please send cheques or money orders to Gordon Shrimpton, address as above. Make them out to CAPN and mark all cheques "for deposit only". U.S. residents may send money orders in U.S. or Canadian funds, but if you send a cheque, please send $12 U.S. funds. Please send fees to be received by Gordon Shrimpton on or before April 1, 1989. If you have questions, call Gordon Shrimpton, CAPN President at (604) 721-8518. Receipts will be available at the registration desk on Friday.

1. It is not merely prudent management (!) which has kept the annual expenses for 1988-89 to within forty-seven cents of the expenses for the previous year. 1987-88 expenses included $67 in costs for the Annual Meeting; this year's expenses did not. Thus, this year's apparent increase of $0.47 conceals a large real increase in the cost of postage and printing.
2. As authorized by the Executive Board in December, 1987, a contribution of $100 will be made after July 1, 1989, toward the costs of a NEH institute on Ovid's Metamorphoses at Miami University of Ohio. This institute is intended for high school teachers. Those in the CAPN area contemplating directing such institutes might well expect contributions from other regional associations.

Renewal forms for memberships and subscriptions are included with this Bulletin, although your current membership and subscriptions are not due to expire until next Fall (except in the case of periodicals which may follow a calendar year). Please remember, if you wish to renew memberships and subscriptions now, that you will be paying for periodical subscriptions which will begin in the Fall of 1989.

Respectfully submitted,

John D. Madden

News from Members and Announcements

Jim Russell from the Classics Department of the University of British Columbia shared with us that very active department's recent Newsletter. The following is merely a sampling of its varied contents.

Hector and Caroline Williams had a successful sixth season at Mytelene on the island of Lesbos (Greece). We wish they would present a report in Victoria. In addition to the conventional finds of such an excavation (wall paintings, pottery, etc.), they came upon a "... 19th-century Turkish burial with the remains of a rotted wooden coffin in a stone crypt that contained the bones of a massive man, buried with great iron spikes through throat, crotch and ankles. A Turkish vampire?" (H. Williams, UBC, Classics Dept. Newsletter, Winter 1988)

Jim Russell spent five weeks last summer at Anamur, Turkey. He has been working on this site for close to two decades. While there, he supervised the cleaning, repair and mounting of a large mosaic for the new museum and visited two Byzantine sites, noted by Freya Stark in Alexander's Path from Caria to Cilicia (1958), where he made some fascinating archaeological discoveries.

Shirley Sullivan has published two books: Psychological Activity in Homer, A Study of Phren (Carleton University Press), and The Philosophical Orations of Thomas Reid with D.D. Todd (Southern Illinois University Press).

Anthony Barrett, author of the definitive edition of Janus Pannonius, has completed a manuscript of his biography of the Emperor Gaius.

Phillip Harding has returned to the department from a year as Visiting Professor in the Department of Classics at the University of California, Berkeley.

Undergraduate enrollments in the Department of Classics show a substantial increase.

Jim also notifies us of the sad news of Dick Sullivan's sudden death on July 12, 1988. He taught at the University of Saskatchewan from 1967 to 1980. At the time of his death he was adjunct Professor of History at Simon Fraser University and the historian for the Naukratis Project in Egypt. His family, friends and colleagues will miss him.

EXCAVATION IN ISRAEL

Interested in excavating at a significant Graeco-Roman site in Israel, Sepphoris / Dio Caesarea, this summer? Sepphoris is located in Galilee 15 miles west of the sea of Galilee and 15 miles east of the Mediterranean Sea. Josephus called the city the "ornament of Galilee". It minted its own coins in the first through third centuries A.D. and had its own system of weight and dry measures. The editor of the Mishnah lived the last 17 years of his life there. So far a theater, Roman style house, an aqueduct and a public building that contained a spectacular mosaic of Dionysian revelry have been among the significant finds.

The excavations, directed by Dr. James F. Strange of the University of South Florida, welcome applications from faculty and students alike for the 1989 excavation from June 16 to July 24. For applications write either:
