Etruscan Studies Journal of the Etruscan Foundation

Editor-in-Chief: Jane K. Whitehead

Etruscan Studies is the only periodical in the English language dedicated to the study of this important ancient civilization. Sponsored by the Etruscan Foundation, the annual will feature research articles in all disciplines relating to Etruscan studies, such as art history, archaeology, history, linguistics, literary criticism, sciences, and social sciences.

Much of the newest information comes from foreign scholars and projects and is published in foreign-language journals, which are expensive and often inaccessible to all but a few American universities and individuals. Etruscan Studies has obtained permission to translate and republish articles from selected Italian journals. It will serve as a timely communication, in English, of new developments within the fully international community of Etruscan scholars. In addition, the journal aims to fill the need expressed by many Etruscologists for a publication devoted to current field reports and the preliminary presentation of analyses or of controversial material that might stimulate debate.

Activity Packets for Classics Clubs

The Activity Packet is filled from front to back with fun, exciting, and challenging lessons and activities for elementary students. All activities are prepared by other elementary teachers, so you can be assured that the material is appropriate for your own students. The packets contain a variety of materials, including lessons on mythology, classical tales, arts and crafts, music, word study, word games, Latin and Greek. Since the subject matter is already researched and presented, the activity packet can help you save valuable time! For more information about the Activity Packet, contact: Elementary Teachers of Classics, The American Classical League, Miami University, Oxford, OH 45056; phone (513) 529-7741, fax (513) 529-7742.

National Mythology Exam

The National Mythology Exam is targeted for students in grades 3 to 9, and is designed to motivate your students to learn about gods, goddesses, and heroes of long ago. While the exam covers basic Greek and Roman myths, it is flexible enough to allow a choice of subtests on the Iliad, the Odyssey, the Aeneid, African myths, or Native American myths. Outstanding students are awarded medallions or certificates and all students receive participation ribbons. For more information about the Myth Exam, contact: Elementary Teachers of Classics, The American Classical League, Miami University, Oxford, OH 45056; phone (513) 529-7741, fax (513) 529-7742.

ANNOUNCEMENT

FOR FUTURE REFERENCE

HENRY BEAN CLASSICS SCHOLARSHIPS AT HOLY CROSS

Each year the Department of Classics and the College of the Holy Cross award four-year, full tuition, merit scholarships to two outstanding high school seniors who will major in the Classics. Candidates are expected to have a strong background (equivalent to four years) in Latin and/or Greek, and significant achievement in all other subjects, as well as on standardized tests. Joining the ranks of more than fifty Classics majors at Holy Cross, Bean scholars work closely with a large faculty. Past scholars have gone on to successful careers in the Classics, medicine, law, business, and education. Candidates should address inquiries to Prof. Blaise Nagy, Chairman, Department of Classics, College of the Holy Cross, Worcester, MA 01610. Deadline for applications is February 1.

Call for Papers

The Wisconsin Latin Teachers Association (WLTA) invites proposals for several 50-minute presentations and a three-hour workshop at its 1994 meeting November 4-5 in Appleton, WI, in conjunction with the Wisconsin Association of Foreign Language Teachers (WAFLT). Topics should speak to the interests and concerns of Latin teachers at all instructional levels from middle school to college/university. The workshop presenter may qualify for a $200 honorarium from WAFLT. Please direct inquiries and abstracts not to exceed 100 words to Eddie R. Lowry Jr., WLTA President, Classical Studies, Ripon College, PO Box 248, Ripon WI 54971, by March 20, 1994.

INTERNATIONAL PLATO SOCIETY
SOCIEDAD INTERNACIONAL DE PLATONISTAS
ASSOCIAZIONE INTERNAZIONALE DEI PLATONISTI
SOCIETE PLATONICIENNE INTERNATIONALE
INTERNATIONALE PLATON-GESELLSCHAFT

In 1986, a small group of Platonic scholars met for the first Symposium Platonicum (on Plato's later dialogues) and formed the project of holding similar symposia on a triennial basis. The second Symposium, on the Phaedrus, duly took place in Perugia in 1989. During this meeting, the hundred or so scholars present established the International Plato Society.

The aim of the Society is to promote the study of Plato across the world, especially through the Symposia themselves, through the publication of the Proceedings of the Symposia, and through the dissemination of information about recent and current work on Plato. The Society owes no allegiance to any particular school or mode of interpretation. Full membership is open to any scholar who has published at least one substantial article - or completed a doctoral dissertation (or equivalent) - on Plato within the last fifteen years, and associate membership to anyone currently working towards a doctoral dissertation (or equivalent) in this field.

The Third Symposium Platonicum took place in late August 1992, in Bristol, on the subject of the Politicus. The meeting, which was attended by more than a third of the current membership of 350, saw the launch of the first volume in a new series. International Plato Studies: Understanding the Phaedrus. Proceedings of the II Symposium Platonicum, edited by L. Rossetti (Academia Verlag, Sankt Augustin: 328pp., hard cover, DM 98,-). The series will include not only the Proceedings of future Symposia, but also independent monographs on Plato, and reprints of books on Plato presently out of print. Scholars worldwide are invited to send their manuscripts to the President of the I.P.S., Professor Tomás Calvo, Universidad de Granada, Facultad de Letras, Departamento de Filosofía, Campus de Cartuja, E-18011 GRANADA, Spain.

All other correspondence, including applications for membership of the I.P.S., should also be sent to Professor Calvo.

The Fourth Symposium Platonicum, on the Timaeus and Critias, will be held in Granada in 1995.
